Aleyah's Story:
A Client of the Veterans Advocacy Project

Aleyah Brown is an Army Veteran who encountered many challenges when she returned home, including post traumatic stress disorder, an abusive relationship, and homelessness. With legal advocacy from the Veterans Advocacy Project, she was able to resolve her minor court issues so she could continue to make positive change in her life.

Veterans Campaign

In honor of Veterans Day, we are hosting a special fundraiser to benefit the Veterans Advocacy Project. Support crucial, free legal aid for veterans like Aleyah, to ensure that small legal issues do not become a roadblock to a better future. You can contribute at our website here or follow the button below to donate on Facebook and share with friends.
